2. A copy of the report and its annexes, if any, is being transmitted to the International Bureau for communication to all the elected Offices.

It is the applicant's responsibility to prepare and furnish such translation directly to each elected Office concerned.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 33(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

D2: PATENT ABSTRACTS OF JAPAN vol. 1998, no. 09, 31 July 1998 (1998-07-31) & JP 10 101646 A (NIPPON FINE CHEM CO LTD;MITSUBISHI CHEM CORP), 21 April 1998 (1998-04-21)
D3: EP-A-0 409 716 (RHONE POULENC CHIMIE) 23 January 1991 (1991-01-23)

1) The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claims 1-12 does not involve an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT:

D1, which is considered to be the closest prior art document and has been acknowledged in the present application, already discloses a process for the preparation of 2-aminomethylpyridines of the general formula (I) by hydrogenation of a 2-cyanopyridine derivative (II).

Although acetic acid is not used in D1, the use of a strong acid is preferred (see page 4, lines 18-21). The catalyst of D1 comprises a metal selected from palladium, ruthenium, nickel and cobalt. The use of Raney nickel catalysts in related processes is known from D2 and is also mentioned in the present description in association with EP-A-0409716 (D3).

For the skilled man the present process according to claims 1-12 is obvious from the teachings of D1 and D2 (or D3).

Therefore it seems necessary for the assessment of inventive step for the above indicated subject-matter to have evidence for the presence of unexpected effects or properties in relation to those described in the state of the art.

The present 2-aminomethylpyridines are useful as intermediates for the preparation of pesticides.

2) The applicant's attention is drawn to the fact that, as a consequence of Rule 66.8(a) PCT the examiner is not permitted to carry out any amendments under the PCT proce-
